They call him Covert — that wisened little man who carries his black satchel to and from the bus stop at Pegasus Drive every day. He's been caretaker of the Davis ranch since he was sixty, and that was only twenty years ago. He'll talk (once he's sure you want to listen) and he'll take you into the barn and he'll tell you about the days when the Davises owned five-hundred acres (including the present FTU campus) and when buffalo grazed on the land. And then he'll doff his hat at you and claim through a toothless smile that he hasn't a gray hair on his head.

Ask him about all the apartments going up and he'll reply: "Oh, say — who's goin' to fill 'em?" And about the proposed plaza shopping center on some adjacent land: "They're all tryin' to get near the college. They can't get near enough!" Bring up the traffic on FTU Boulevard and he'll tell you with a shake of his head: "...Oh, Mr. Davis is giving them some ground. They're gonna' make Hall Rador, that is — Techno-logical Boulevard a four-lane drive. They were supposed to do that when they first started working on the road, but they shut down for some reason. I guess they didn't think the've got enough traffic. Oh, you can hardly get across the road there for the cars." Shake his hand and tell him it's been a pleasure to talk with him, and he'll say rather wistfully: "I'm glad you people called. I don't have many callers out here. You'll know where to find me next time. Come again."

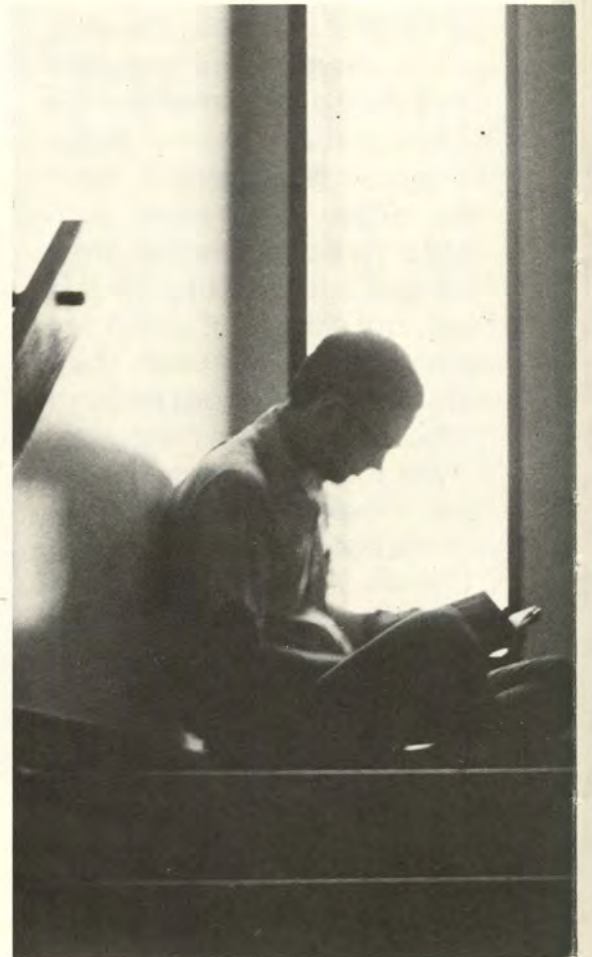

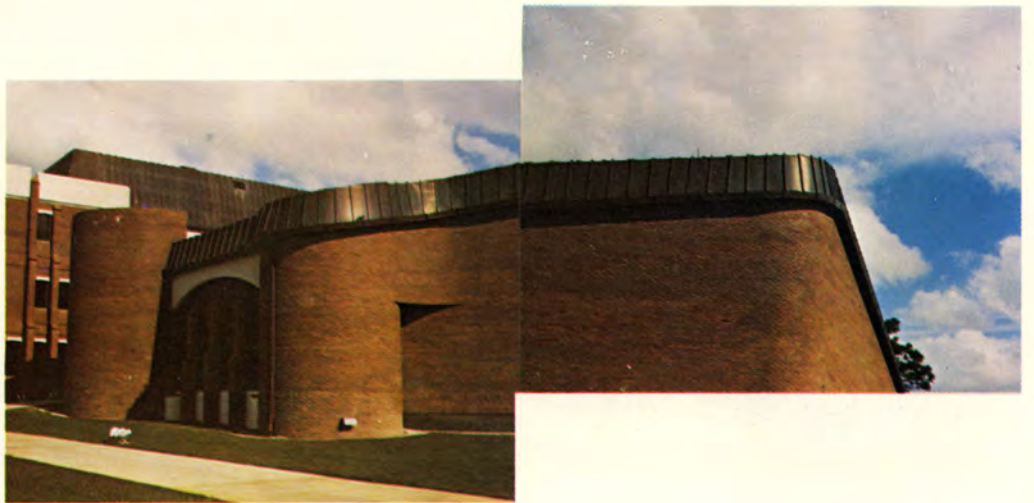

I am the people-the mob-the crowd-the mass.
 Do you know that all the great work of the world is done through me?
 I am the workingman, the inventor, the maker of the world's food and clothes.
 I am the audience that witnesses history. The Napoleons come from me and the Lincolns. They die. And Then I send forth more Napoleons and Lincolns.
 I am the seed ground. I am a prairie that will stand for much plowing.
 Terrible storms pass over me. I forget. The best of me is sucked out and wasted. I forget. Everything but Death comes to me and makes me work and give up what I have. And I forget.
 Sometimes I growl, shake myself and spatter a few red drops for history to remember. Then-I forget.
 When I, the People learn to remember, when I, the People, use the lessons of yesterday and no longer forget who robbed me last year, who played me for a fool,-then there will be no speaker in all the world say the name: "The People," with any fleck of a sneer in his voice or any far-off smile of derision.
 The mob-the crowd-the mass-will arrive then.

I AM THE PEOPLE, THE MOB
 Carl Sandburg

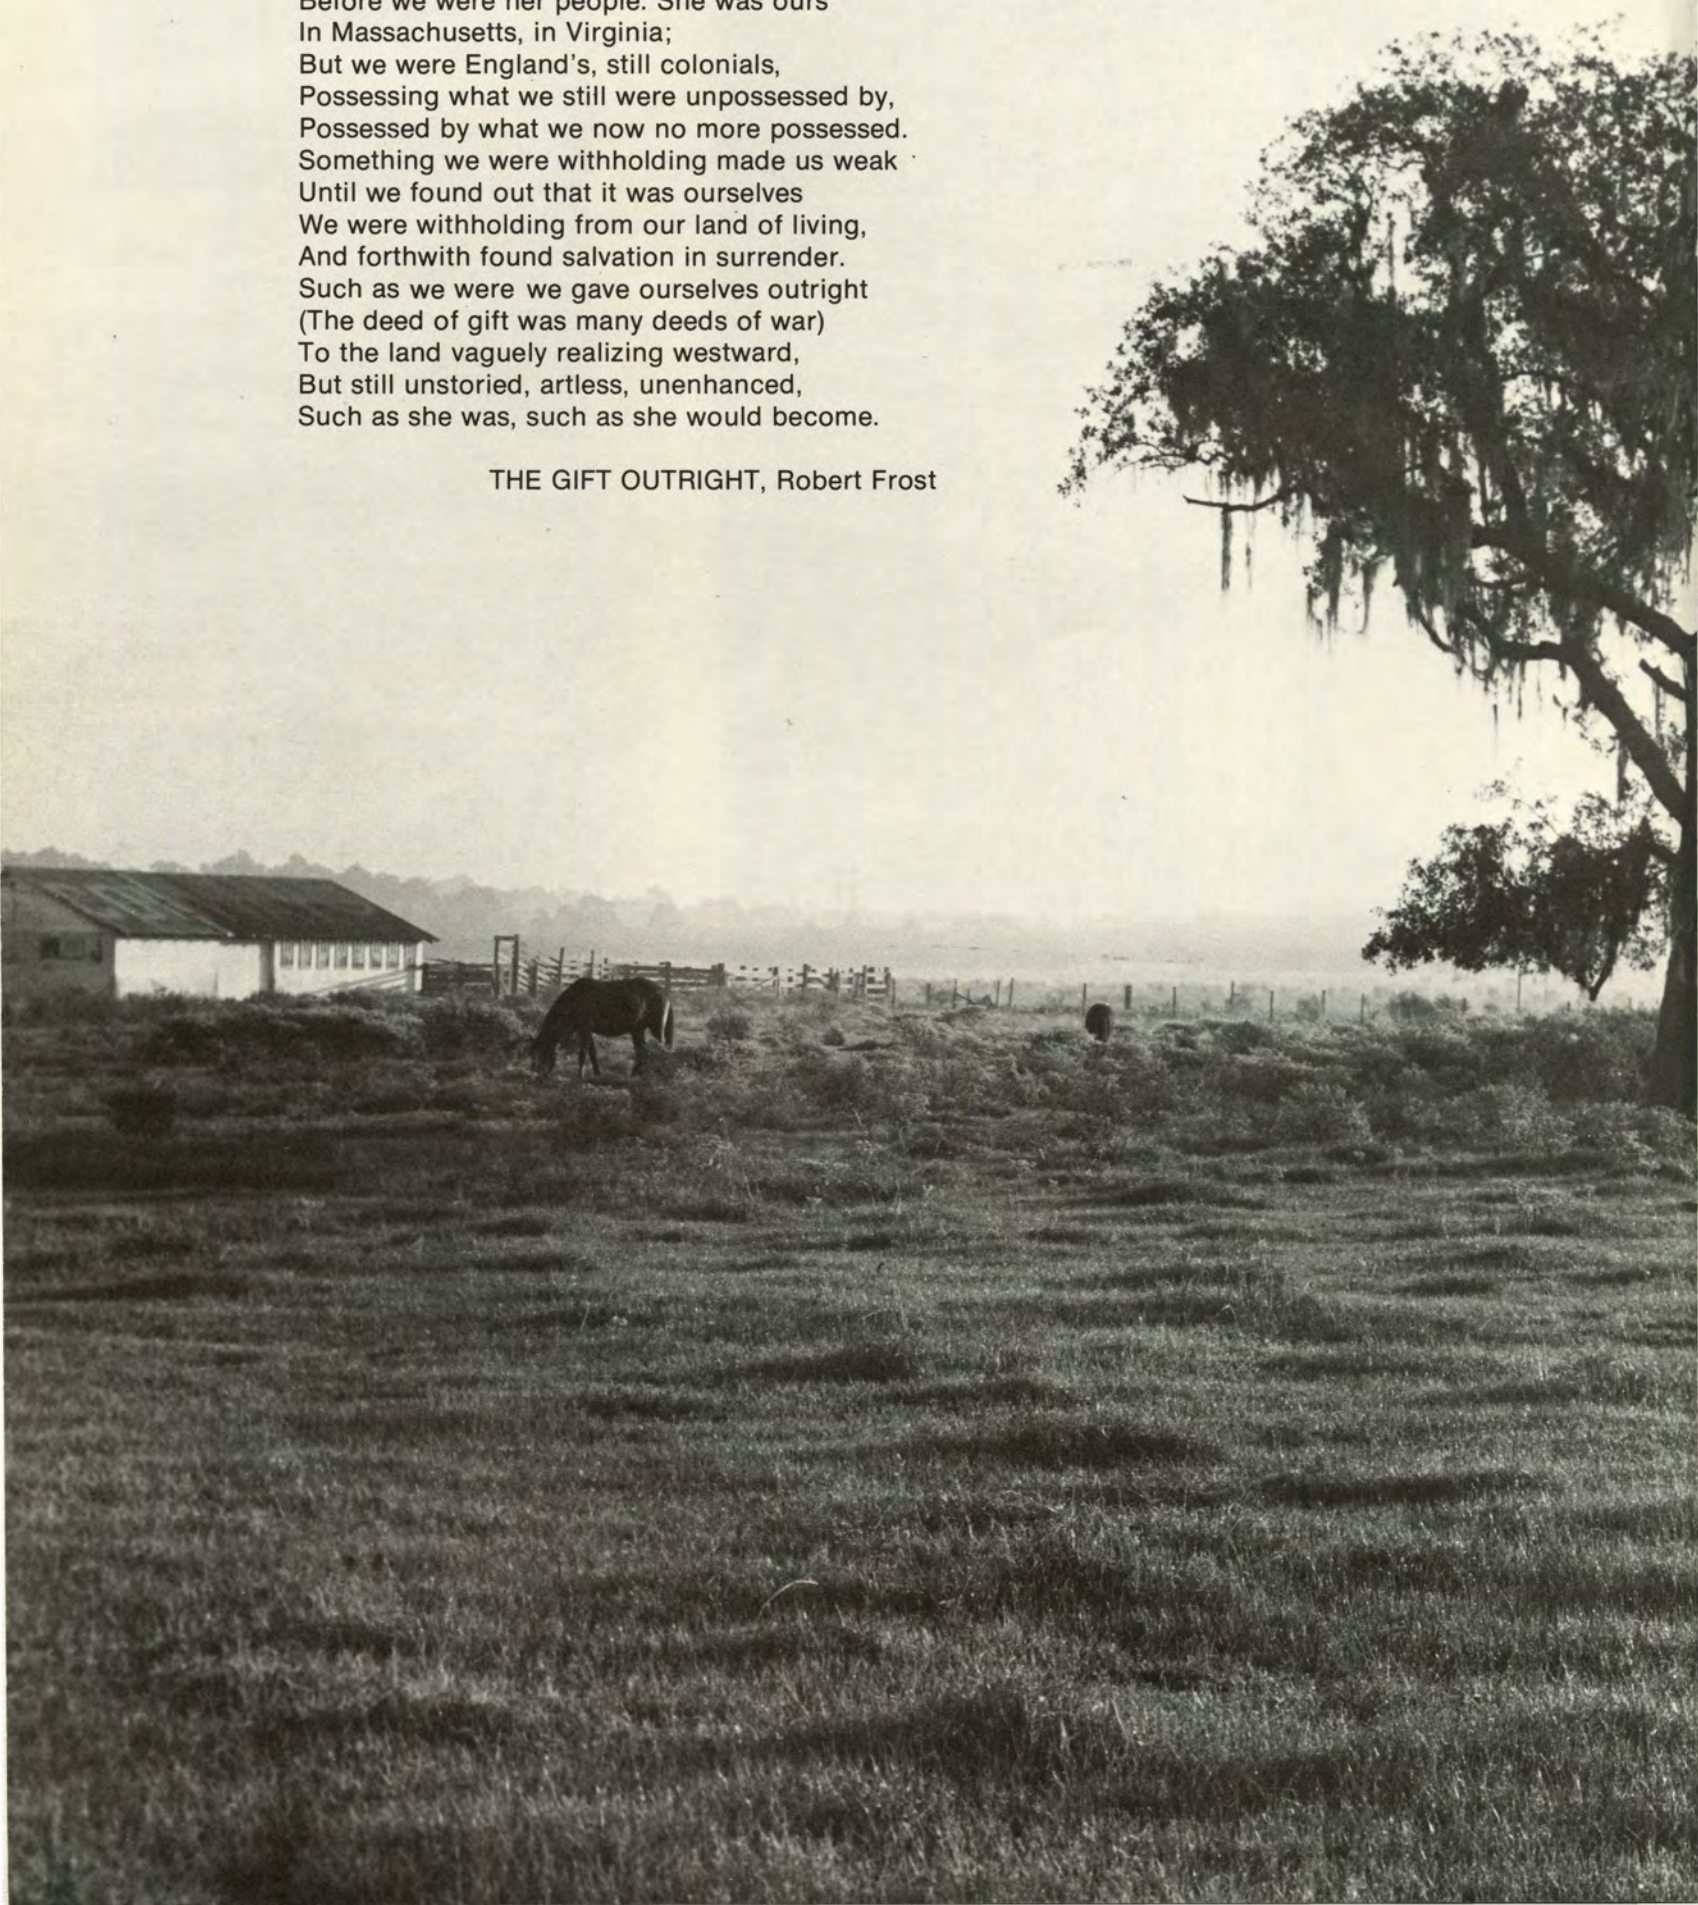

The land was ours before we were the land's.
She was our land more than a hundred years
Before we were her people. She was ours
In Massachusetts, in Virginia;
But we were England's, still colonials, Possessing what we still were unpossessed by,
Possessed by what we now no more possessed.
Something we were withholding made us weak
Until we found out that it was ourselves
We were withholding from our land of living,
And forthwith found salvation in surrender.
Such as we were we gave ourselves outright
(The deed of gift was many deeds of war)
To the land vaguely realizing westward,
But still unstoried, artless, unenhanced,
Such as she was, such as she would become.

THE GIFT OUTRIGHT, Robert Frost

the college doors open and a blonde boy climbs the flag pole and spits on a 48 star flag.
the college professor walks out on the veranda and reclines in his reclining chair and eats a cucumber.
someone lights a fire in the fireplace and the thermometer reads 88 degrees--outside.
mother walks in and passes around a jar of pickled cigarettes.
someone writes the star spangled banner on a marshmallow and the whole crowd applauds.
it's kinda bad how ladies girdles have gone up in price, but easter chicks are down two cents.
a go-cart sets a world record in a graveyard and two ravens steal a matching pair of madras handkerchiefs from the smithsonian institute.
500 men march through a kindergarten class stringing telegraph wires and a water meter woman reads the clock inside the garage.
it's a rat's world and you are in the united states.
surrender half your pay check and read hemingway twice a week.
heart machines are tax deductible and peat moss is plentiful on long island.
you shouldn't let other people eat off your plate but drinking soda pop on coffee breaks four times a day is fine.
remember your mother's birthday and send a card that has a hallmark sign with a blurred 15-cent mark on the back.
out in the fields are carnations to put around the lizards neck on valentines.
a textbook in the attic said thomas edison eats snails and mama's in the kitchen readin' the news.
a finance company opens and gives away balloons and a four year old boy plans to run away soon and you get naked and go the market, then catch a trolley to the zoo.

you stop by the supermarket and buy a banana and a bottle of shampoo and get a shot of penicillin.
then you walk to the park and watch the geese.
drink kerosene and the sputnik passes in an hour,
its been a full day but the nights even fuller.

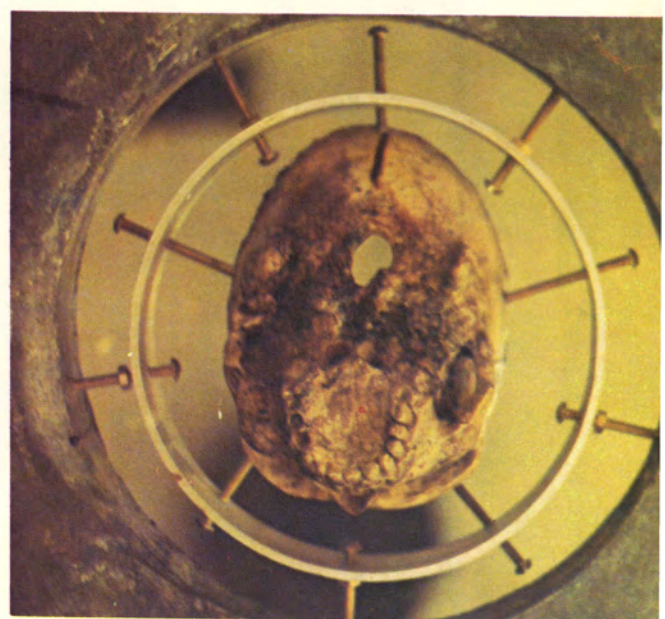

EPILOGUE, Edwin E. Riley, Jr.

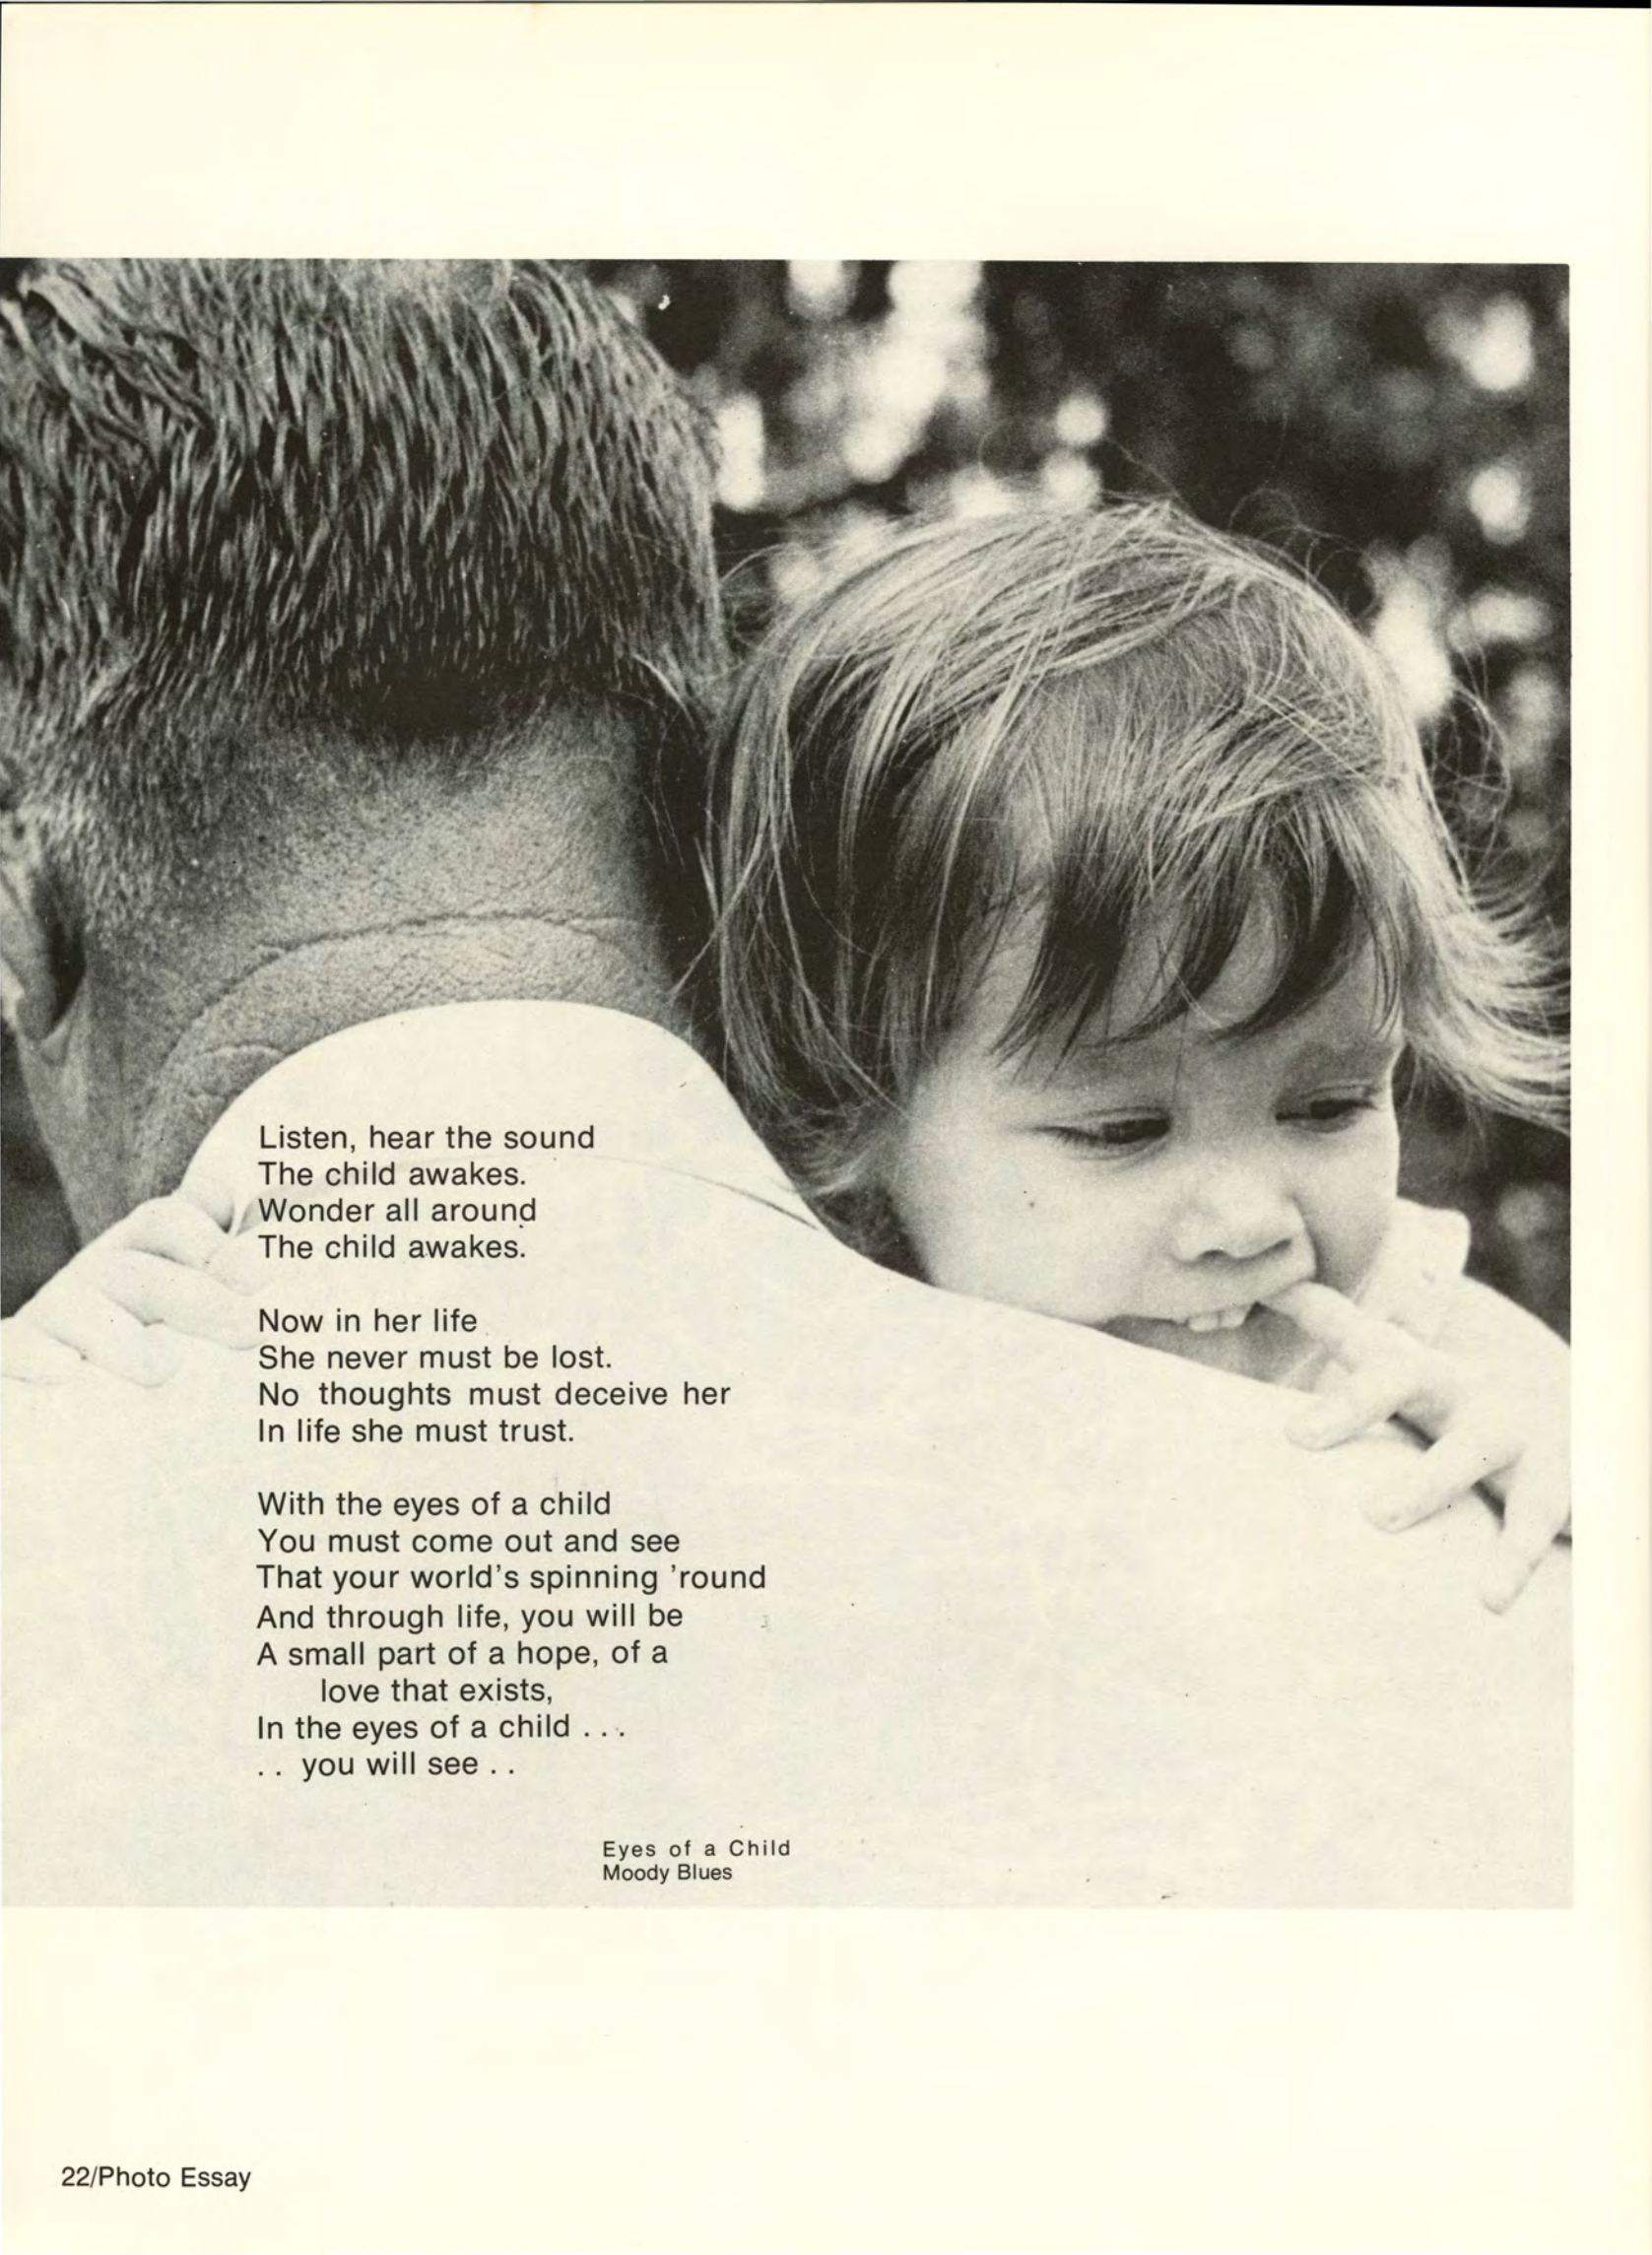

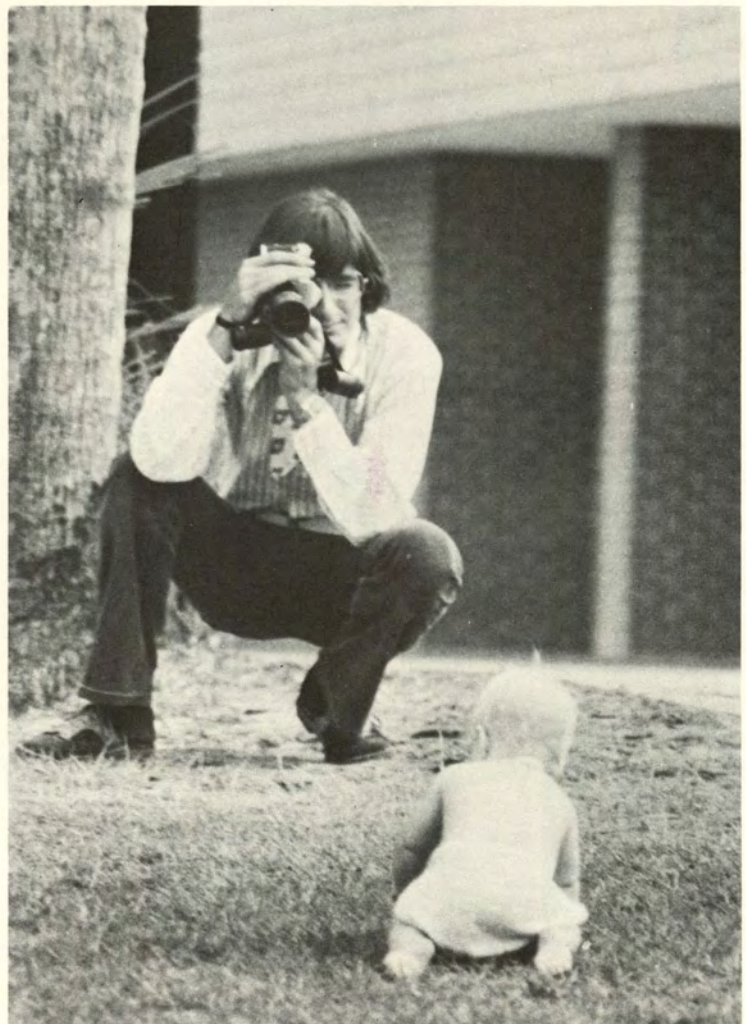

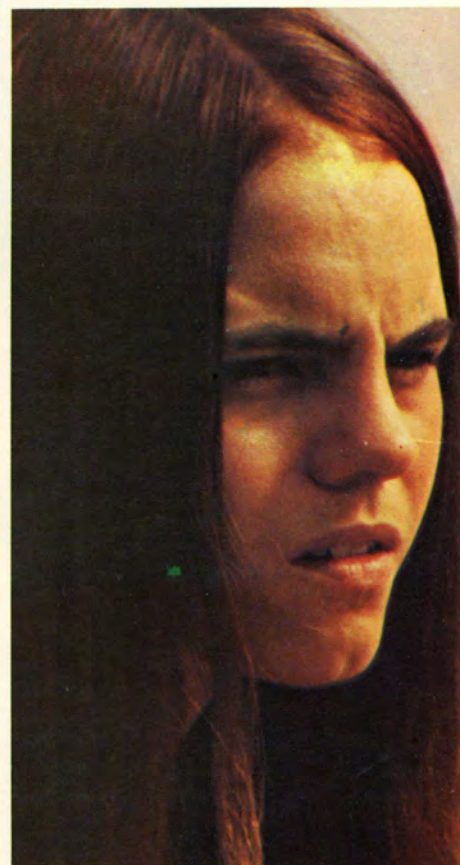

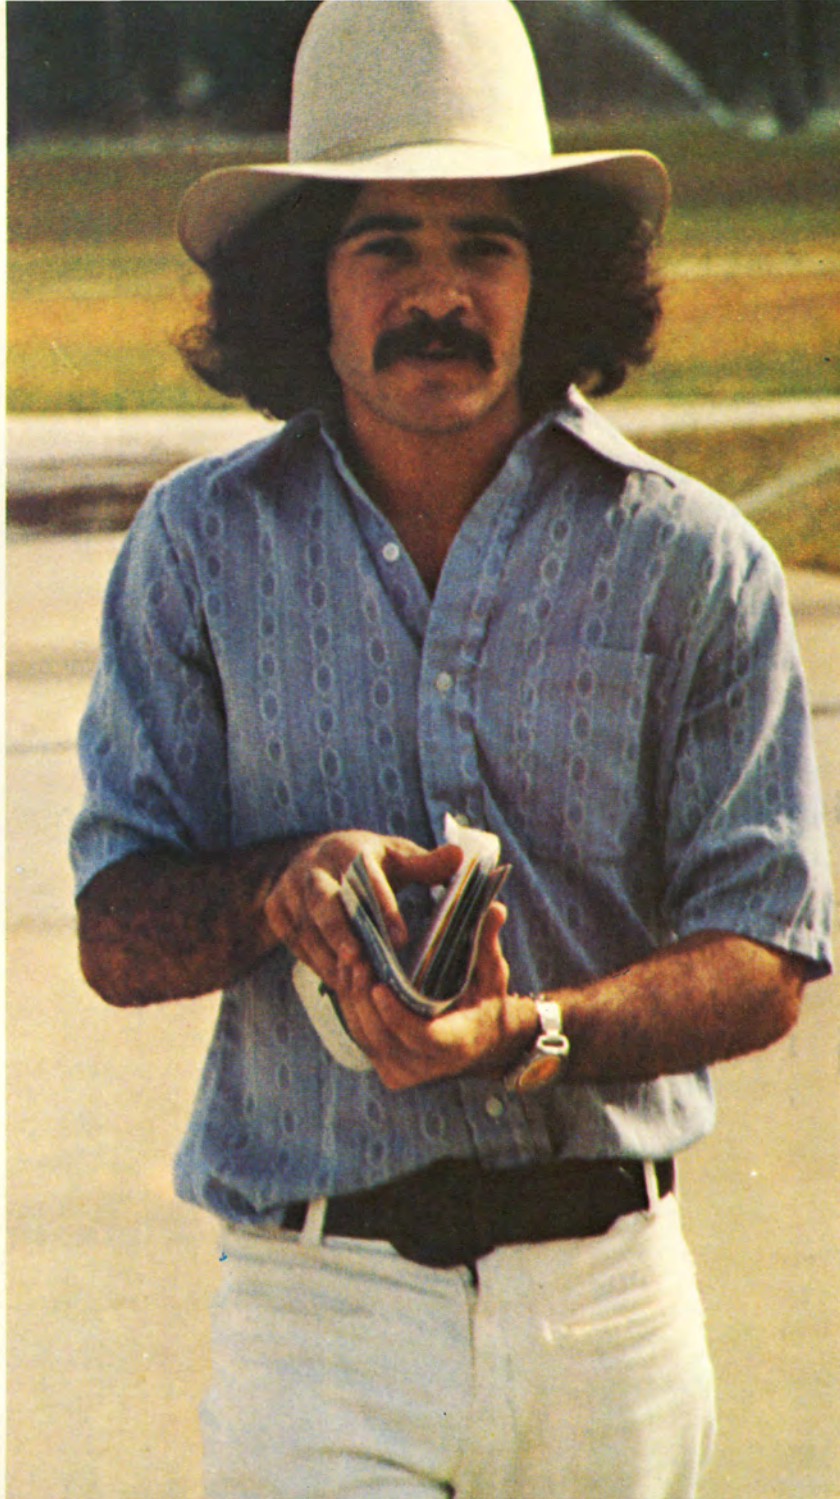

Listen, hear the sound
The child awakes.
Wonder all around
The child awakes.

Now in her life
She never must be lost.
No thoughts must deceive her
In life she must trust.

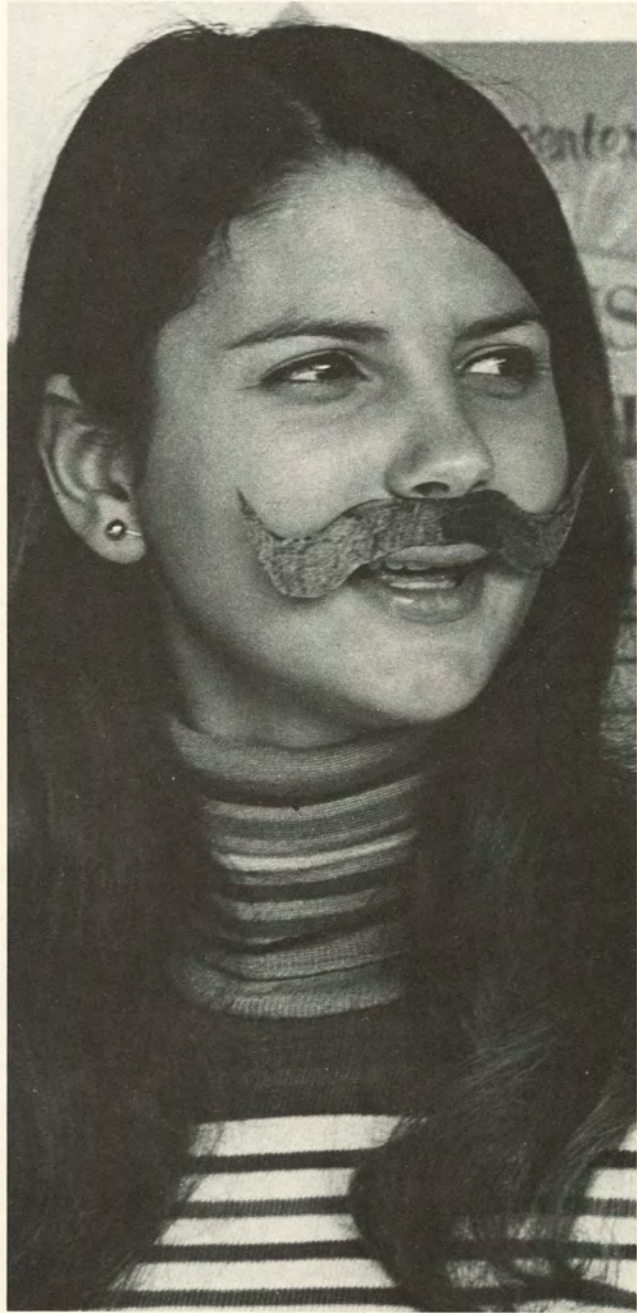

With the eyes of a child
You must come out and see
That your world's spinning 'round
And through life, you will be A small part of a hope, of a love that exists,
In the eyes of a child ...
.. you will see ..

Eyes of a Child
Moody Blues

BEAUTY • Titles are not necessary for beauty exists without them.

As the sun nurtures the infant tree,
Your gentle touch brings life to me.
Stroking, like a painter, with quiet grace and delicate style.
Molding, like the sculptor, in frozen face and quixotic smile.

You are a song painter, woman
 of misty yearning,
And on your rainbow canvas my shifting music burning.
With deft strokes of chisel hand and movements of the brush
You sculpt my noisy, moaning soul to a fluid, liquid hush.

And when I see you shining, love,
 your hair is hanging long,
As ever, you be the singer,
 and I gladly the song. . .

Pin-pricked holes in a curtain of shadows.

Uncounted suns choose their places and nestle on todays and tomorrows. . .

Just like all the yesterdays.

OFF CAMPUS HOUSING

O give me a home
Where the bulldozers roam
And the giant pines no longer sway;
Where seldom is heard
Either critter or bird,
And the traffic just rolls by all day.

AFROTC

TWO COMMISSIONING PROGRAMS are available for college students through Air Force ROTC. Entering freshmen may enroll in the AFROTC four-year program and students with at least two years of undergraduate or graduate work remaining may apply for the two-year program. Since 1970, women have also been able to earn Air Force commissions through AFROTC.

AIR FORCE ROTC college scholarships are available to qualified cadets in both the two-and four-year AFROTC programs. Each scholarship provides full tuition, laboratory expenses, incidental fees and a $75 annual allowance for textbooks. In addition scholarship cadets also receive a monthly non-taxable subsistence allowance of $100.

After years of waiting that spanned three administrations, the announcement came on January 23 that an agreement to end the war in Vietnam had been initialed in Paris. Official peace came on the morning of January 27. The fighting continued, but the machinery was set in motion to bring our men home. For some, the long vigil is over. Others are still waiting...

Major Glendon Perkins, one of several POW's returning to the Central Florida area, at McCoy Jetport (February 23, 1973).

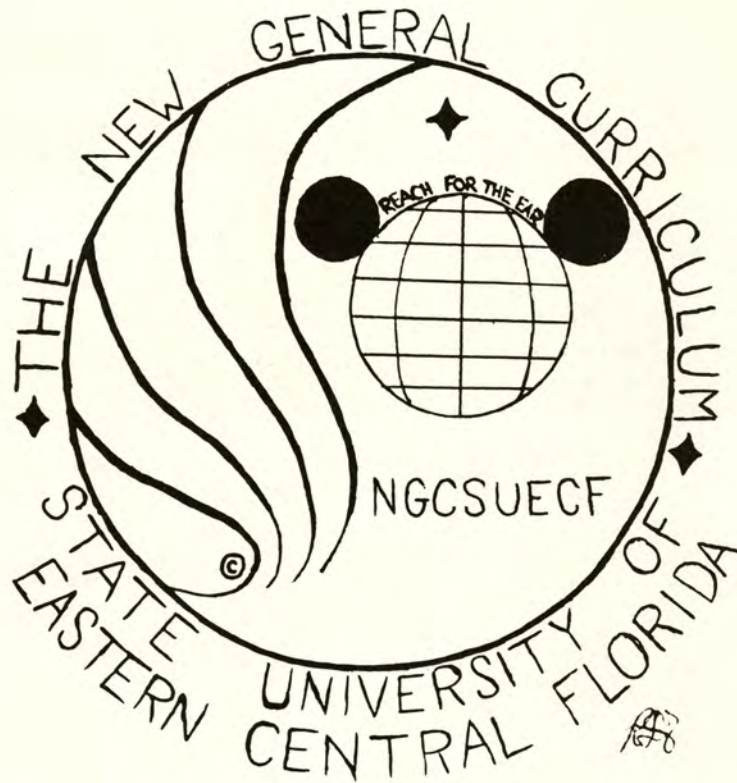

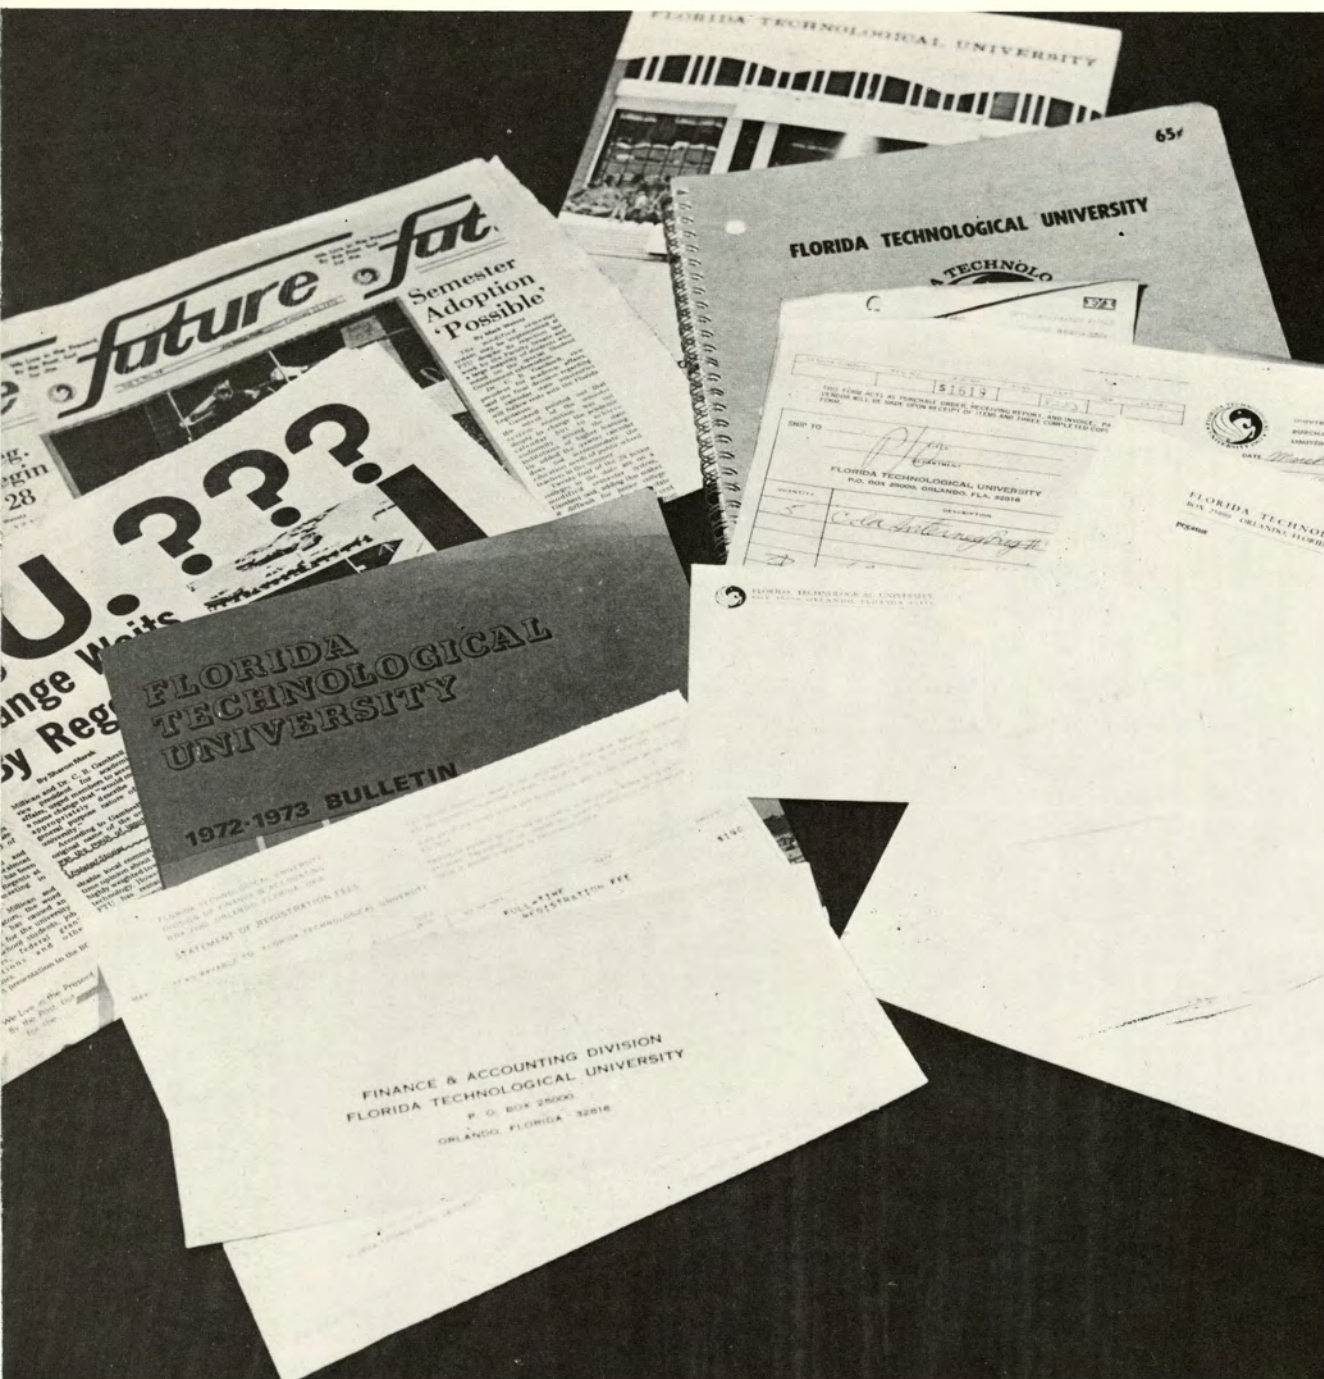

"A Pegasus by any other name..."

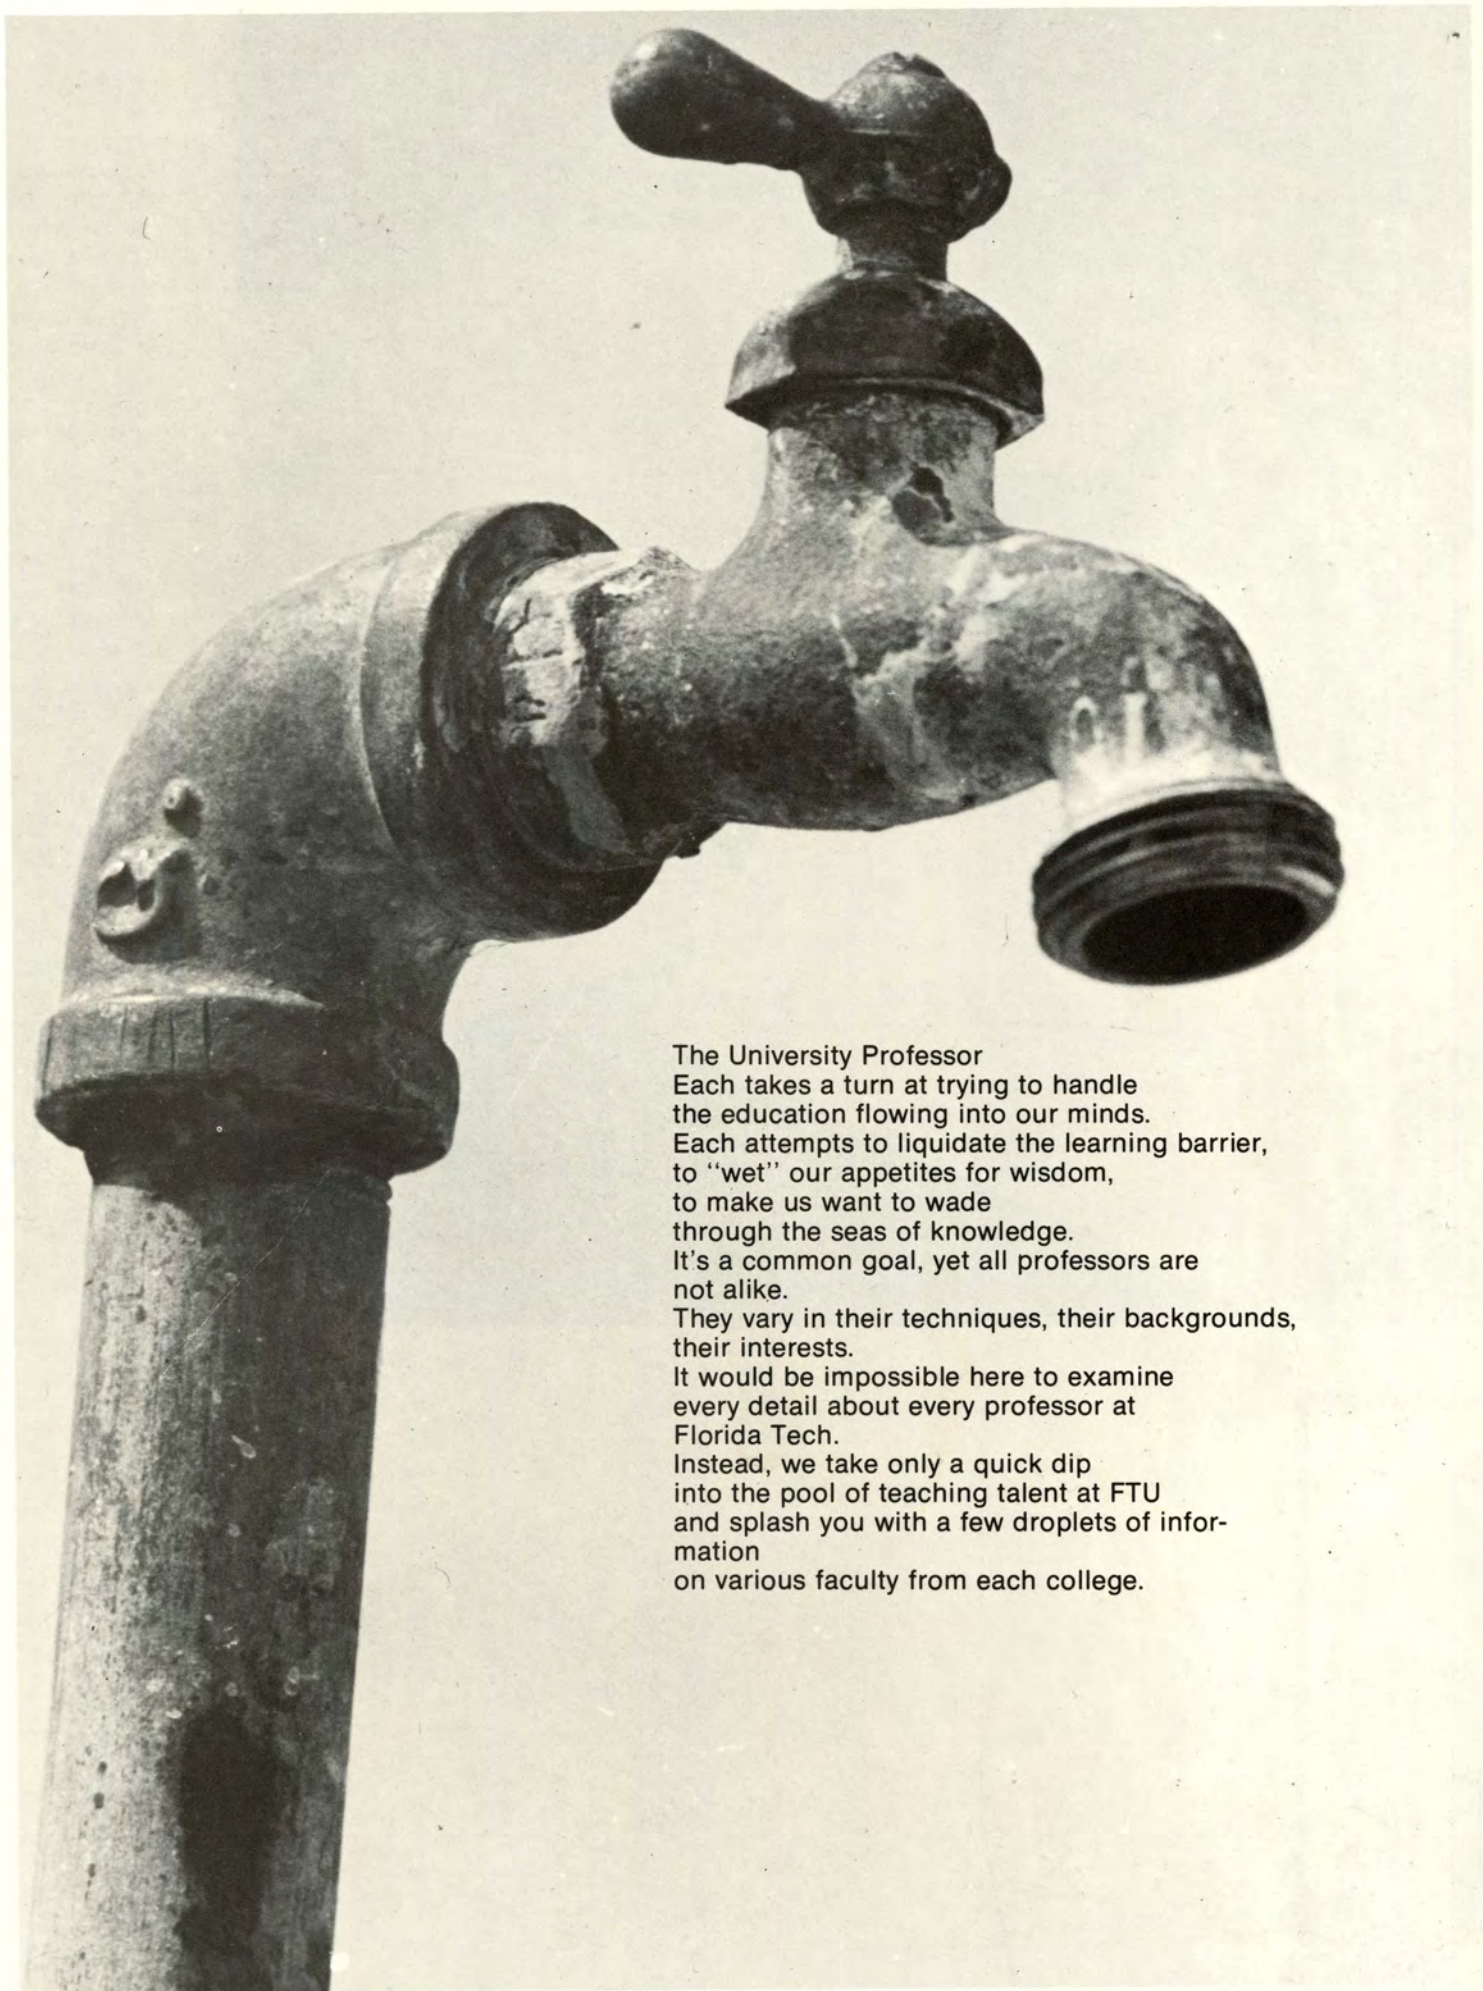

"Rumors abound that Florida Technological University is planning a name change. Sources say school officials feel the current name is misleading, since FTU is not engineering oriented as 'Technological' implies."...Tom Fiedler, Florida Magazine, February 18, 1973.

Most of Central Florida knew of the impending name change before the university community was fully aware of it. The Regents, however, decided not to decide, and left the final determination up to a committee. It is projected that a full name change will take more than six months to complete.

In the meantime, the University's identity crisis brings confusion and puns as students try to figure out exactly where they are going.

The University Professor

Each takes a turn at trying to handle the education flowing into our minds.
Each attempts to liquidate the learning barrier, to "wet" our appetites for wisdom,
to make us want to wade through the seas of knowledge.
It's a common goal, yet all professors are not alike.

They vary in their techniques, their backgrounds, their interests.

It would be impossible here to examine every detail about every professor at Florida Tech.

Instead, we take only a quick dip into the pool of teaching talent at FTU and splash you with a few droplets of information on various faculty from each college.

The future belongs to you.

We must be ready for it.

By our calendar, it's already 1980.
It has to be. For we must build today if we are to provide the additional power you'll need for the schools and homes and hospitals that you will build tomorrow.
